I am graduate of the department of performing arts, Delta State University, Abraka, Nigeria. There I was equipped with skills to help me perfectly execute my different Art form. Here I perfected my writing skills by joining different clubs which helped in improving my writing skills. I was a member of the Association of Nigerian Authors and Creative Writers Workshop from 2017 until 2020. I am also a Frontend engineer who builds responsive and interactive websites and applications. I did a 1-year diploma program with AltSchool Africa with a supplementary course on technical writing. I was named a top contributor in their Slack community as I tend to help my colleagues grow with me by dropping videos on how to improve their skills and opportunities that they could benefit from. I believe in community growth and cooperation. In African proverbs, we'd say "Hand wash hand to make both hands clean". This shows that man is no island and I believe that together we can achieve great things. I also got an honorable mention by the school (AltSchool Africa) on their Instagram page. <https://www.instagram.com/p/C8MuCrKIdaf/?igsh=MTRmNG9vM2J3NzA2OA==> I may be a baby fawn in the Tech space but what I am bringing is an enthusiastic personality, a team-building personality and the ability to preach the gospel of your company and its vision to the world as I have done and still do for AltSchool Africa by writing articles about benefits of working with your company. I am not saying just to sway your opinion but it is just how I work. If it benefits me, then I want a lot of people to benefit from it as well and that is one of my favorite things about the Tech space, especially the engineering sphere. So if you want a man dedicated to building with you and not just working for you, then look no further.
